STRENGTHENING INDIGINEOUS READINESS HONORING SOVEREIGNTY AND ACHIEVING RESILIENCE THROUGH AN ALL-HAZARDS APPROACH

Healthcare Leadership for Mass Casualty Incidents (HCL)

These training courses strengthen Tribal Nations' healthcare leadership and emergency response capabilities for mass casualty incidents. The Healthcare Leadership for Mass Casualty Incidents course develops critical decision-making, disaster planning, and recovery skills through interactive lectures and exercises, empowering leaders to effectively manage all-hazards scenarios. The Integrated Capstone Event provides a realistic, multidisciplinary training exercise, challenging participants to coordinate response operations and apply their skills within the Incident Command System, ultimately enhancing preparedness and resilience across Tribal healthcare and emergency response teams.

Healthcare Leadership for Mass Casualty Incidents

A four-day course for healthcare leaders focusing on disaster preparedness and response for mass casualty events. Learn critical decision-making, disaster planning, and recovery functions through lectures, tabletop exercises, and functional drills to enhance leadership capabilities in all-hazards scenarios.

Integrated Capstone Event

Participate in a culminating, all-hazard, mass casualty training exercise that brings together multiple disciplines. The event challenges first responders and receivers to coordinate response operations within the Incident Command System, applying skills and knowledge gained from previous training.
