11th Annual Tribal Nations Training Week
September 12 - 19, 2026

STRENGTHENING INDIGINEOUS READINESS HONORING SOVEREIGNTY AND ACHIEVING RESILIENCE THROUGH AN ALL-HAZARDS APPROACH

Incident Command and Hazmat Awareness with Train-the-Trainer

These training courses provide Tribal Nations with vital capabilities for hazardous materials and all-hazards emergency response. Hazmat Awareness equips participants to identify hazardous materials, assess risks, and take protective actions using industry standards and resources, enhancing community safety. The Hazmat Awareness Train-the-Trainer course enables experienced responders to deliver hazmat awareness within their communities, building local expertise and preparedness. Incident Command: Capabilities, Planning and Response Actions for All Hazards develops strong decision-making, planning, and teamwork skills for managing CBRNE incidents, ensuring Tribal Nations are prepared to coordinate and respond effectively to a wide range of emergencies.

Hazmat Awareness

The Hazardous Materials Awareness course equips participants with essential skills to identify hazardous materials and assess risks, following NFPA® 1072 and 472 standards. Training includes using the DOT Emergency Response Guidebook and hazard communication documents to determine appropriate protective actions for personnel and the public.

Hazmat Awareness Train-the-Trainer

Designed for responders who have completed Hazmat Awareness, this one-day course prepares participants to teach hazmat topics. Focus on presentation techniques, lesson plan development, and practical applications, including hazardous materials identification and protective actions using the Emergency Response Guidebook.

NOTE: Following this Training you will be able to deliver HMA supported by the Center for Domestic Preparedness!!

Incident Command: Capabilities, Planning and Response Actions for All Hazards

Covers decision-making and planning for chemical, biological, radiological, nuclear, or explosive (CBRNE) incidents. The course emphasizes preparedness, incident management, and teamwork, and includes a scenario-based tabletop exercise to apply learned concepts in managing emergency response resources.
